

The Horse Ranch Exclusive Front Row Seating Application

This is a rare and unique opportunity to observe and learn directly from Glenn Stewart on his Personal Horsemanship Journey as he prepares his Dream Team of Horses and works with other horses all at different levels of development. Observe and learn from the Front Row and bring your horsemanship to a new level of excellence.

This program is being offered to a select few students to use the Horse Ranch facility, work on your own horsemanship and learn from Glenn as he is developing horses from developing colts to his seasoned veterans. Each participant will have daily access to Glenn, with a set question and answer session, as well as direct advice by Glenn on your personal horsemanship throughout the day. As he is working horses either in the round pen, at liberty, brideless, or finesse, whenever possible Glenn will share his personal insight on the different moment/situations, and the experience he has gained over his career and the knowledge he has learned from the thousands of horses that have taught him.

Do not miss this opportunity to learn and take your horsemanship to an entirely new level of competence, feel, timing, connection and progression.

You are welcome to bring a horse and work on your own horsemanship throughout the program or come without a horse and just immerse yourself in this amazing learning opportunity.
